

Energy Filter

In our daily lives, we interact with other people – and with their energies, and Practitioners working with energy fields of students or clients are more exposed to vibrations, frequencies and emotions released by their clients and thereby run a risk of contamination. They have a potential for picking up these negative energies, entities or attachments from persons or environments, to say the least.

Thus, energy cords, attachment and parasites are few of the possible energetic influences that could harm our mental, emotional, physical and spiritual well-being.

Other influences are equally encountered on a continual basis, as energy workers are targeted by impure and dark forces. This may be the case for beginners and advanced practitioners equally. We do not need to know exactly what type of influences are lurking in the background, awaiting a chance to affect us as light workers. However, we must take precautions to safeguard our energy levels.

It is also worth mentioning that attunements may sometimes be done in a tainted energetic space, and could affect the energy system of the sender with negative thought forms and energetic parasites as well as other unwanted perils, which are passed along to the receiver, if proper care is not observed.

The list could extend to many other undesirable and harmful influences, but this manual will be kept simple and brief.

Energy Filter was gratefully received in response to asking for a powerful tool to ensure the purity of energies, This System is intended to provide an additional protective resource for practitioners. Many healing systems from devoted Founders already exist and deal with protection, clearing, and safety, and they are quite effective, but discussion is beyond the scope of this manual. A web search on the subject will yield further information for the interested seekers.

Energy Filter is gladly made available to anyone concerned with keeping the Light worker circles clean and pure of dubious interferences.
